ASST. PUBLISHER NAMED

POLAROID One-Minute Photograph

BERNARD M. BOUR NAMED ASSISTANT PUBLISHER, SPECTATOR

Michael and Katharine Gould, owners of The CARMEL SPECTATOR, have announced the appointment of Bernard M. Bour, of Carmel Highlands, as assistant publisher of the paper. The creation of this new position is effective immediately and is the result of a long search on the part of the Goulds to find the right person to take over the day-to-day operations of the newspaper. Mr. and Mrs. Gould will remain active in the publishing of The SPECTATOR, but to a lesser degree than formerly, in order to devote time to their other activities in this area.

The SPECTATOR is fortunate in having secured the services of an outstanding young man of national and international experience, and we are sure the Monterey Peninsula business and social life will join us in welcoming Bernie to this area.

For the past five years Bernie Bour has been a member of the permanent US delegation to the UN in New York where he was associate chief of the reporting staff. In this connection he sat in on all of the five UN Assemblies held to date in New York and Paris.

During the war he traveled some 25,000 miles in the Pacific as a correspondent for the Air Forces weekly, "Brief," published in Honolulu. As such he was one of the first Allied newsmen to visit Nagasaki and Hiroshima. Before joining the UN in New York he worked for several months in early '46 as a reporter and desk man for the Honolulu Advertiser.

A native of Illinois, Bernie accepted a Rockefeller Foundation Foundation fellowship upon graduation from Bradley University in 1940 and went to Washington, D.C., where he worked with Ernest K. Lindley of Newsweek. He also collaborated on a book about Washington by W. M. Kiplinger, editor of the Kiplinger Letters, and in 1943 edited OWI's weekly Victory Magazine.

With his wife, formerly Trude Landon of Carmel and Berkeley, he has been coming to the Peninsula annually since 1947 to visit Trude's father, the late Col. Edwin Landon of Carmel Highlands. The family includes another young admirer of the West, 20-months-old Vicki Bour, who is happy to transfer her sand lot from Washington Square to the Peninsula.

FOREST GUILD MEETING

On Tuesday, June 19, at 8 p.m., the Forest Theater Guild will hold a general membership meeting for the election of officers. It will be held in Bert Heron's studio on the second floor of the Seven Arts Building on the corner of Lincoln and Ocean. Planned is a discussion of the forthcoming production of "Lysistrata," to be directed by Forrest Barnes.

CAMERA CLUB

The Padre Trails Camera Club will hold its regular monthly educational meeting in Room 11, Sunset School, Carmel, Saturday, June 16, at 8 p.m. Dodie Warren, well known Carmel photographer, will talk on "How to Build up your Standards in Photography." All camera fans interested are invited to attend.

COMMUNITY CHEST CHAIRMAN

Dan Searle, president, has announced that Albert M. Lester of Carmel will take over the chairmanship of the Carmel drive for the Community Chest to be held in the Fall. Mr. Lester has been chairman and vice-chairman in the residential area the last two years.

Casey, commanding officer of the School. Of these, five will receive the degree of Master of Science in Aerology; four will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Aerology; and the remaining 19 will be awarded certificates for completion of the course in Applied Aerology.

NEW LUSBAUGH SHOP FEATURES POTTERY

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lusbaugh, newcomers to Carmel, have moved their work from a home studio in Carmel Woods to a shop at Fifth and Junipero. They already have many friends in this community as the Carmel Work Center has been an outlet for their "Versatile Hank, Eddie and Baby"--small pottery gimmick that serves as a wall planter, drippy spoon holder, and ash tray.

A craftsman who has worked in woods and metals, Mr. Lusbaugh gained his knowledge of pottery-making in Mexico City from a Mexican potter with whom they lived.

A small daughter, Jade, attends nursery school at the Carmel Priest Home.

POLICE CALL

Midnight call to CPD from lady saying she'd been awakened from sound sleep by woman or girl screaming, "You'll kill me!—you'll kill me!" Officer arrived via prowl car, shut off lights and motor to listen for further disturbance. Apparently she was dreaming. Nothing further happened, except officer raised so many barking dogs by parking and cutting motor he decided it best to leave before being reported as prowler.

- - - - - - -

Prowlers and Peeping Toms also bothering one neighborhood. One entered rear door of house, wandered about, walked out front door. This houseowner, also landlady of adjoining house, says her tenants are "always complaining of prowlers." Apparently something you gradually become used to.

All the Comforts to Roam

THE time has come when folks are spreading out road maps—and casting a yearning eye on distant lakes, rivers, mountains, ranches and shores.

America's getting ready for the great vacation trek—and we'd like to point out how much fun it would be to hit the trail in the Buick SUPER pictured here.

You'd have the comfort of room—seatroom, headroom, legroom—room that's unsurpassed by any six-passenger car on the market, regardless of price.

You'd have the comfort of trunk space so ample that you won't need to have bags and baggage underfoot inside the car.

You'd have the comfort of a ride so smooth that there'd be no worry about youngsters reading while they travel—and a ride that pillows the bumps of back roads if they lead where you want to go.

You'd have the comfort of Dynaflow Drive*—and don't underrate what that means. You roll relaxed for hour after hour. There's nothing for your left foot to do—and your right can rest at ease on the gas treadle—and still feed a smooth flow of power.

Even the Fireball Engine adds to your comfort—because it laps up miles like a kitten laps up cream—takes you where you want to go with an effortless smoothness that is easy on your pocketbook too.

Fact is—this Buick SUPER is a great car to own, any month in the year—and for years to come.

So if you haven't tried one—better come in now and find out what a smart buy it is from every standpoint—including its price tag.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

CARMEL BICYCLIST ASPIRES TO OLYMPIC GAMES

Carmel may send a bicycle racer to the next Olympic Games, if the opinion of one Carmel citizen is correct. The possible entry is young Arthur Page, 15, son of Captain and Mrs. Gerald Page of Carmel, and a Carmel High sophomore. The opinion is that of his trainer, Jack McCoy, local businessman, who should know, having himself been a top-seeded bike rider for 17 years as amateur and professional.

Each day, either early in the morning or in the nice evening weather this duo may be seen touring along local highways, easily nipping off 30 miles an hour for 20 to 25 miles. McCoy is training young Page for the weekly races at the San Jose Melodrome to be followed by the State meet in San Jose and, he hopes, the National Cycling Championships which also will be held in San Jose. Jack works as hard as his protege since he is planning a comeback next year on European tracks.

Arthur, according to McCoy, is a natural rider, one of the few. He says he realized it the first time he saw the youngster on a bike a couple of years ago. Some people sit a bike naturally the way others do a horse. It took a while to get Arthur interested in a serious approach to cycling, and a little longer to convince Arthur's parents. Now, however, all are for it a hundred per cent enthusiasm.

For one thing, Arthur, who frankly was a bit pudgy for the average man's idea of a bike rider, now is leaning and hardening rapidly under the stiff workout McCoy puts him through. In a short time, riding will be augmented not only with calisthenics, but boxing and wrestling, all excellent for building up neck, shoulder muscles, and stamina.

Recently Arthur bought his own bike. When he did, Jack told him, "You've got to live up to the bicycle." The bike Jack had pro-

DAISY MAE DOGPATCH STYLES--designed by Ken Sutherland, a Californian, are now made available by MAXINE'S. The styles are as exciting as the name implies...full of flounce skirts...strapless... in cottons and rayons.

Daisy Mae, as all readers of the comics know, is the luscious little blonde who has been chasing Li'l Abner ever since the strip began--but hasn't caught him yet. For her the Daisy Mae Dogpatch clothes were designed. This was a good idea, for Daisy Mae appears in 800 daily and Sunday newspapers throughout the country. She's the leading lady in some 3,500 Sadie Hawkins Clubs throughout the country, and she stars in the 10,000,000 Li'l Abner comics sold every year.

Because Daisy Mae is an average girl, Mr. Sutherland studied the girls in this country to find out what styles were most flattering--the styles that brought out the best lines of the wearer. He discovered that strapless dresses, form fitting, with cute capes and stoles, were the most flattering, and so the Daisy Mae Dogpatch Styles came into existence to bring the Daisy Mae out in you. These are exclusive at MAXINE'S, on Ocean Avenue near Seventh. The fabrics chosen for Daisy Mae are beautiful Sanforized cottons and lovely, color-fast rayons. The cottons can be washed, and they iron beautifully. The rayons are rich textured, wrinkle-resistant and long wearing.

TEMPORARY HAIR COLORING that highlights dull, drab hair, tones down gray hair, helps to blend mixed gray to natural shade, is what you may have given you by MR. WOODARD, the hair stylist on the mezzanine in the San Carlos Hotel.

The simplicity of the coloring application and the low cost of such a service by an expert have taken the fashion picture by storm. Many fashion pages have played up the new hair colors in harmony with the latest clothes design. MR. WOODARD, HAIR STYLIST, uses a temporary hair coloring--that is just what it is. It is a non-permanent coloring that lasts from shampoo to shampoo. This coloring comes in various shades. Most any shade of hair may be matched, modified, or glamorized as desired by using one or a blend of various shades.

A "spruced up" coiffure is just as helpful to a woman's spirits as is a new suit, dress, or hat. If you are a young business woman prematurely gray, this hair coloring service can beautify yourhair either by blending the gray with its natural shade, or if you wish, it can change the gray to the lightest or deepest of tones--whichever you prefer--of silvery gray without any blue or violet tint. These temporary effects can give you a new lease on life, and inasmuch as the hair coloring is not permanent you are free to experiment to get the color best suited to you.

FOR GOOD MANAGEMENT in the kitchen department by thrifty housewives with an eye towards nutritious, varied meals, it's a must to shop at MAC'S POULTRY MARKET on San Carlos and Fifth and select from the wonderful assortment of fresh killed ducks, roasters, fryers, broilers, large colored fricassees, and rabbits. Also the poultry backs, necks and wings are a real bargain at 35¢ a pound. With them you can make savourous meals of fried chicken, broiled chicken, fricassee or soup. With a rice or a spaghetti side-dish an appetizing and hearty meal can be arranged at a minimum of cost which is something these days. MAC'S POULTRY MARKET also have assorted sizes of fresh ranch eggs.

AT THE HILL

Gloria Swanson's great success of the 1949-50 season, "Sunset Boulevard," plays the Hill Theater tonight and tomorrow night. The "barbaric grandeur" of the movie won it the New York Film Critics' Award.

Starting Sunday the Hill is bringing back Marcel Pagnol's trilogy of films about a group of thoroughly engaging people on the Marseille waterfront. The repeat performance comes as a result of "hundreds of requests," says Bob Read, from people who missed one or two or all of them and who have been terribly sorry ever since. "Marius" will play Sunday and Monday; "Fanny," Tuesday through Thursday; "Caesar," on Friday and Saturday. Matinees on Sunday, Wednesday, and Saturday.

'WORKING GIRLS WRONGS' IN LAST WEEK AT FIRST THEATER

"The Working Girl's Wrongs" at California's First Theater, Monterey, is going into its final performances, playing just three more times: tomorrow night; Sunday; and Saturday night of next week--June 16, 17, with the closing performance June 23.

"The Quartet" from "Rigoletto," starring Gail Johnson, Eugene King, Dee Olivetti, and Jack Kidwell, continues to create hilarious laughter. The entire olio--or series of variety acts following the regular show--are said to be among the funniest yet seen at the historic Playhouse.

On Thursday night, June 23, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will open at the First Theater. Both "The Working Girl" and "Uncle Tom" are directed by Rhea Diveley.

RADIO STAR TO EMCEE NAVY BALL

Bill Thompson, popular radio comedian, will serve as Master of Ceremonies for an outstanding entertainment program to be produced as part of the Navy Relief Ball festivities on June 23rd at the U.S. Naval School in Monterey.

Thompson is well known for his characterization of the "Old Timer" on the Fibber McGee and Molly show, and has achieved wide popularity in the entertainment world as a capable master of ceremonies.

During the evening, prizes worth many thousands of dollars will be awarded. Headlining this prize list is a new 1951 Buick Roadmaster Riviera Sedan.

This is the third annual presentation of the Navy Relief Ball, and it will be known as "Neptune's Ball" with an "underseas" theme carried out in the decorations.

"POINT OF DEPARTURE" PLAYING TO FULL HOUSES

The much heralded play with the Big Sur setting, "Point of Departure," by local artist and playwright Bruce Ariss, had its premiere at the Wharf Theatre, Monterey, last Friday evening. A full house greeted actors and author and gave an enthusiastic response to the three-act comedy-drama, directed by Dan Totheroh.

The play is a "fictionalized dramatization" based on the Big Sur sex cult incident. Some months ago, an article entitled "The New Cult of Sex and Anarchy," by Mildred E. Brady, appeared in Harpers and afterwards in Time Magazine, which referred to "the neo-Bohemians living in tents and huts along the nearby highways"--wallowing, apparently, in sex, art, and mystical philosophy. More poetry than truth being evidenced in the questionable "research" leading up to the expose, the publication of this article aroused, locally, much merriment. Mr. Ariss has made clever use of the situation in "Point of Departure," a play somewhat short on plot, and lacking the element of conflict, but rich in characterization.

Ariss himself plays one of the male leads, that of Dr. Jody Bronson, the "local boy who makes good," retaining his sane homespun philosophy and clinging doggedly to his colloquial speech. Ernest Fernandez characterizes Don Andreas Escobar de Amorios, depicting perfectly the dignity of the elderly Spanish gentleman. Some of the best acting is done by Don Gunderson, well cast as Paolo, whose suave urbanity both of manner and diction makes the women in his environs, to whose emotional problems he gives wholehearted concern, easy prey to his Continental charm. Jack Cooley gives every evidence of thoroughly enjoying his part of vehement, voluble, gun-totin' Old Tom. And Terman Baker, as Davis Wyngate, the inhibited and repressed millionaire's son, affords a nice contrast to the other characterizations in the restraint of his part.

Ruth McElroy, as always, stirs her audience to a peak of risibility. As Ma Bronson, in her four o'clock mail delivery scene, she has everyone splitting his sides. The two attractive, arty, susceptible, and somewhat confused young women in the cast, Peggy Cease as Jessica Wylie and Jean Ewing as Wanda Jackson, play their parts with emotional intensity.

Stage manager is Adrienne Engle; properties are in the hands of Gracecarol Kearney; and Ariss is responsible for the sets.

RECORD ATTENDANCE SEEN FOR SALINAS CALIFORNIA RODEO

The pace of ticket reservations for the California Rodeo to be held in Salinas June 21-24 indicates another record attendance for the big four-day show, according to an announcement this week. Reservations were being made at San Francisco and Oakland box offices and through Pacific Greyhound ticket agencies at a steady clip.

Meanwhile, cowboys who usually walk away with some $40,000 in prize money decided to up that take by increasing the entry fees in the Brahma bull riding contest a full 100 per cent.

Instead of $50 they have directed that contestants pay $100 for the privilege of riding the bulls and the purse of $2,000 put up by the California Rodeo. Entry fees are added to the purse and divided among winners.

The vanguard of approximately 1,500 horses that usually appear in the daily parade along Main Street to the rodeo grounds were also arriving in Salinas.

MONTEREY COUNTY FAIR EVENTS, DEPARTMENTS EXPLAINED

Monterey County Fair officials and the Monterey County Home Extension Advisory Council were guests of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Carl Weppener, and Mrs. Weppener's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Anderson, at their home in the Corral de Tierra district, this week.

Mrs. Weppener is the chairman of the County Council as well as chairman of the Monterey County Fair Home Economics Department. She outlined the premiums offered in the Canned and Preserved Foods, Baked Foods and Confections, Clothing and Textiles, and Feature Extension Booths, together with the nationwide Crochet prizes.

Fred McCargar, Manager of the Fair, explained the new departments: Photographic, Arts and Crafts, and Floriculture. He also explained the Baby Queen and King Contest open to groups entering their representatives as Prince and Princess. He pointed out that there were already over a dozen firms which had offered prizes to the babies, between 18 months and 36 months, entering the contest.

Accompanied by the Big Sur pianist, Gerhardt Muench, Mr. Millar sang the noted aria from Beethoven's "The Mountain of Olives." He also presented a Brahms' Violin Sonata.

Present for the occasion were Mr. & Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Mr. & Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, Dr. & Mrs. Russell Williams, Mr. & Mrs. Malcolm Millard, Mr. & Mrs. Ephraim Doner, Mr. & Mrs. Gerhardt Muench, Miss Marilyn Hooper, Mr. & Mrs. James Hopper, Mrs. Yvonne Winslow, Miss Irene Alexander, Mr. Noel Sullivan, Miss Catherine Millar, Miss Tilly Polak, Dr. Walter Lehman, Mrs. Emily Thatcher, Mr. & Mrs. Glen Minshall, Mr. Clifford Anderson, Mr. Henry Miller, Mrs. John Nesbitt, and Mr. Millar.

WHO IS IT?

Although hours when their "public" makes full use of the service they give are the afternoons and evenings of every day, there really is no time when Jack and Bonnie Giles, our this week's "Who Is Its?," aren't "on the job," for the Carmel Youth Center is a beehive of activity.

During "open" hours there are movies, games, dances, and parties of all sorts and for various age groups, while during the remaining hours interior gardening must be done, and plans put into effect for more "blackstop" playing surfaces, or additional space for the ever-expanding equipment being given to the youth center or earned by its enthusiastic members. Only one dollar a year is necessary for any young person from 13 to 21 who lives in the Carmel school district or attends a Carmel school, from eighth grade up, to be a regular member of the Center.

And why is this all-important "business" one of Carmel's most successful? Because the Giles not only love working with young people, but they bring to their work a combination of essential abilities. A graduate of Valley Forge Military Academy in Pennsylvania, Jack Giles, the Center's director, was a five-letter man--in track, baseball, football, basketball, and polo, and State track champion for New Jersey. Soft ball is a passion with him, and it was partly as a result of his coaching, between five and six o'clock after a hard day's work at M. J. Murphy's, the boys of the old Boys' Club and those girls who wanted a soft ball team too, that the Youth Center Board felt that since he had his finger on the pulse of Carmel youth, he was the one who could make the Youth Center tick.

Making an equally able contribution, not only in her interest in young people, but with training and experience in newspaper work and bookkeeping, Mrs. Giles (Bonnie) makes up the other half of the capable pair to whom can be taken all the recreation problems of Carmel's young fry. Or, is it only a third each contributes? For there is always Gold Brick, the Giles' pooch, than which there is no more enthusiastic supporter of, or participant in, the doings at the Clubhouse. Rescued from starvation by Jack when he was stationed at Fort Ord during World War II, Gold Brick has never been more than a few feet from his master since. And any affair at the Youth Center, whether it be a banquet for Bing Crosby, one of the Center's staunchest supporters, or a bang up performance of the Youth Follies, which is not fully approved by Gold Brick, is really no affair at all. Court martialed twice while at the Fort for being caught asleep in the Colonel's jeep or on his bed, Gold Brick now thinks nothing of occupying a choice spot on one of the many good-looking rag rugs made and given to the Club by Miss Ella Vaughn, also a staunch supporter.

And so one of Carmel's most important ventures is making, under the guidance of Jack and Bonnie Giles and Gold Brick, a wonderful contribution to the health, happiness, and well being of Carmel youth.

SIX DAY BICYCLIST

cured for Arthur was Tiet Van Kempen's own bike--and Van Kempen was formerly world 6-day bicycle champion.

So far, Arthur has lived up to the bike. Though he has been riding only three months, and only raced the last three weeks, his improvement has made Jack McCoy happy. Three weeks ago in his second race, he came in fifth; last week in his third race he finished second. If he keeps working, Jack thinks he'll breeze through the State meet and go on to the National meet. Then to the Olympics.

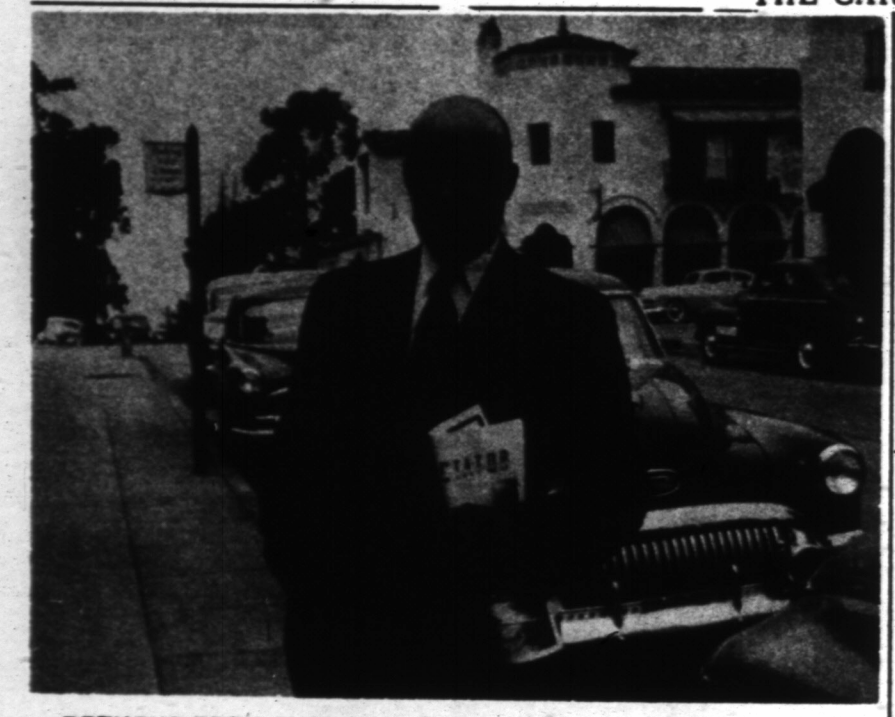
"He has a fine competitive spirit," McCoy adds, "and what's better, he loves to ride. You have to."

Jack himself started riding in 1928 as an amateur, turned professional in 1933, rode several thousand races. He was a member of the 1932 American Olympic cycling team. Eighteen years ago he was teamed in a 6-day race with Van Kempen, which they won, with Van Kempen riding the identical bike young Page now propels.

Arthur thinks there's nothing like bike riding, would like to do it morning, noon, and night. The only thing is, it keeps him awfully hungry. But it's nothing to what he'll be when he gets in the championship class.

"Know what a 6-day bike rider eats in a single day?" McCoy asked him. While Arthur's eyes bugged, McCoy rattled off the following items: 1 gallon of fruit juice, 1 or 2 dozen eggs, 2 dozen thick lambchops, 3 or 4 thick steaks, 2 good-sized chickens, and plenty of vegetables and coffee.

He didn't add how the rider paid for it.



RETURNS FROM ENGLAND. Just arrived back in Carmel is Frederick Elstob, former resident here. Mr. Elstob, a native of England, was for many years an official of the International Business Machine Co. in New York and abroad. While in Carmel he was established as an accountant with offices in the Patterson Building. After a severe illness several years ago Mr. Elstob returned to England to recuperate. Mrs. Elstob, former society editor of The SPECTATOR, and the two Elstob girls, are expected in Carmel in September. POLAROID One-Minute Photograph.

MARY SARGENT ACCORDED RARE GOLFING HONOR

Miss Mary Sargent, of 17-Mile Drive, has received an exceptional honor by being named as one of an original list of 1,000 invited to become represented in a Museum for Women's Golf being established at the Augusta (Ga.) Country Club in connection with the newly formed Hall of Fame for Women Golfers.

The Hall of Fame includes such noted golfers as Virginia Van Wie, Margaret Curtis, Alexa Sirling, Glenna Collett Vare, Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Beatris Hoyt, Babe Zacharias, Louise Suggs, Patty Berg and Betty Jameson.

Those invited to be represented are asked to forward to the Museum some piece of golf equipment they have used in tournament matches. Miss Sargent is considering sending a No. 5 iron which has served her well in the past.

Among the golfing honors achieved by Miss Sargent have been the Colorado State championship '43, the Pebble Beach Open, Northern California championship '48, runner-up California State '48, and the Broadmoor Invitational the same year.

"GOOD TO COME HOME," SAYS CORUM JACKSON

"Atlantic City has nothing on Carmel as far as a pleasant place to visit is concerned," said Corum Jackson, popular Carmel realtor, as he returned last Saturday from the East. Mr. Jackson, retiring president of the Carmel Rotary Club, attended the Rotary International convention in Atlantic City, and then went on to visit friends in New York, Darien, Conn., and Boston.
